

A residential education centre
near Glastonbury offering top quality facilities for training courses, workshops and seminars.

INFORMATION SHEET

Just five miles from Glastonbury, on the edge of Compton Dundon village, EarthSpirit lies within the 'temenos' (sacred enclosure) of Avalon.

The centre has previously won and been a runner-up in the Kindred Spirit 'best centre' award. It is situated between two hills, one a site of special scientific interest (SSSI), the other a nature reserve. It is just two minutes walk from St Andrew's church, which has within its cemetery a yew tree that's more than 1,700 years old.

The 17th Century farm buildings have been restored and specially converted for use as a centre. They are set within seven acres of fields and gardens. The complex is based around a converted 52' long barn, with oak timbers, reed torching (lining the inside of the roof) and stone walls. The feeling is medieval, but with modern comforts such as under-floor heating and a large wood stove. The high roof and skylights create a light, airy atmosphere.
